DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: It is not clear if the melting or softening point is in degree C or degree F. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 in view of the specification at col. 10, line 34 and col. 6, line 38 of U.S. Patent No. 6,623,532 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the limitations of current claims 1 and 2 are encompassed in claim 1, Example 1, and col. 6, line 38 of US 6,623,532 B2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ichinose et al. (US 6,550,909 B2).

Ichinose discloses a recording medium comprising a substrate and a porous layer (abstract). The substrate can be a cloth (col. 9, line 40). The porous layer comprises a coating formulation containing resin particles such as polyethylene (col. 7, line 21) with a minimum film forming temperature of 40-150 degree C (col. 7, line 56). The coating formulation has a pH value of 3-7 (col. 12, line 43). The coating formulation is coated on the substrate (col. 12, line 57), followed by drying treatment (col. 13, line 19). Ink jet printer is used to print on the porous layer (col. 16, line 16). After printing, the printed recording medium is subjected to heat treatment (col. 16, line 42).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
